Book of the Month

Professionals: A Matter of Degree, 4th edition, by Martin J. Lawler [American Immigration Lawyers Association 2003].
KF 4829 A7 L378, available at Civic Center.

Our highly esteemed, book reviewing reference librarian par excellence says:

Indeed, this is an immigration law book, with a very specific and valuable focus: the representation of visa applicants with professional, specialist, and artistic credentials, through the welter of rules, regulations, and proofs required by the Department of Homeland Security. This is a 2-volume set, described in its preface by Ira Kurzban [the Kurzban of Immigration Law Sourcebook ] as:

"...a masterpiece in one of the most difficult areas of immigration law. Written by one of the country's leading business immigration law practitioners, Martin Lawler, it incorporates every significant aspect of immigration law pertaining to business professionals ."

The Lawler set also includes a supplement of cases and materials, including INS Advisory Opinions and Memos, sample cover letters, sample expert testimony, checklists, and other very useful practice adjuncts. The set will be on display in our immigration law section--just ask a reference librarian.
