

Bachelorette.com Presents The Bachelorette Party Scavenger Hunt

Who: This is a fun bachelorette party scavenger hunt for all of the bride's friends.

Why: If you're looking for a precursor to your bachelorette party, there's no better way than having a thematic scavenger hunt. There's no explanation for the popularity or success of scavenger hunts but people love them just the same. Whether it's in grade school or the nursing home, the idea of a scavenger hunt will have everyone excited to play.

When: Why not make the scavenger hunt part of the bachelorette party. Starting the night out with a scavenger hunt will really get things going and will provide tons of fun stories for the remainder of the party. For this scavenger hunt, we suggest a time limit of either 2 or 3 hours. Your guests will find it quite a challenge to finish this list in that time.

What: Bachelorette.com provides you a list. You provide the rest. Your friends, their cars, a digital camera or camera phone, marker, copies of these game sheets, and intestinal fortitude should do it.

How: Make copies of the scavenger hunt sheets. Divide your group into teams that will fit in one car each. Typically this means of 3-4 girls but teams of 2 can take their Ferrari and teams of 7 can fit in a minivan. Give at least one copy of the task list to each team. Each task is worth one point, with bonus factors being worth an additional point. Pick a rendezvous point (like your home or the bar) and a finish time. Let them go.

During The Hunt: Keep your cell phone on and some bail money handy. Travel to the rendezvous point and start having fun. Martha Stewart would have appetizers ready at exactly the rendezvous time. You will probably just order a couple of pitchers of beer.

After the hunt: When the time period expires meet up with the rest of the party at a predetermined destination. Tally up the points as you share your stories of this memorable night. Make sure to have a ridiculous prize waiting for the winners.

The Bachelorette Party Scavenger Hunt

Rules: Each task is worth 1 point. Bonuses are worth an additional point. The team with the most points at the end of the time limit wins. Subtract 1 point for every 5 minutes late you are to the finish.

- Phone in a request to a radio station and have the DJ send a special song out to the bride. For foolproof evidence, alert other players via cell phone and have them listen to the radio station. Be creative with your song suggestions.
- Take a picture with a man who has a Chinese character or Dragon tattoo. If you are one of the few who lack a camera phone convince him to come along. Bonus point if he meets up at the rendezvous point.
- Convince a man to give you the condom out of his wallet.
- Go to a bar; walk out with the phone numbers of three men. Negative point if any of the numbers turn out to be bogus.
- Go to a fire station, have one of the firemen dress up in his firefighting suit. Bonus point if you can get a photo of him sliding down the pole.
- Acquire two specific food products. One is a banana. The other is donut.
- Find something that can be used as a metaphor for the groom. Think “wet blanket” or “dough boy”. Do not think “stolen baby”. That’s kidnapping and it’s wrong.
- Arrange lawn ornaments in a position of lovemaking. Take their picture. Bonus point if you get a picture of a member of your team joining in the fun.
- Obtain a copy of Playgirl magazine. Bonus points if the issue is from before 1995. That kind of dedication deserves reward.
- Get something embarrassing from the groom. Negative points if the embarrassing thing turns out to be a “sexual harassment” lawsuit.
- Bring back a food item from the bachelorette’s favorite fast food restaurant. Negative points if you choose the wrong place.
- Find two golf balls and a sausage. Put them in a bag or sack.
- Write down a toast related to marriage, sex or weddings. Use it later at the bachelorette party.
- Have three men write the bride a note signing their names and listing reasons why the bride should dump her fiancée and marry them. Don’t let them try too hard.
- A lock of a man’s chest hair. Negative points if one of them is grey.
- Invent ten terms that could be used to describe the male member. I apologize but “Latin Torpedo” already exists.
- Get change for the condom machine from a man. Men who are working don’t count, so forget asking the bartender.
- A Viagra pill.
- Come up with the largest pair of underwear you can find. The biggest pair of underwear earns a bonus point.
- Clip a marital advice column out of the paper.
- Obtain something stained with lipstick. No do it yourselfing. Try to come up with a sexy item.
