

Glimmer Train's September 2009
Fiction Open

- 1st-place: Carrie Brown for "Bomb"
2nd-place: Ken Barris for "Life Underwater"
3rd-place: Lydia Fitzpatrick for "Ellijay"

Top 25, listed in alphabetical order:

- Alex Abreu for "Ginger Alice"
Amin Ahmad for "Naxalities"
Craig Bernier for "Bender"
Nadia Bruce for "Scars"
Mark Connelly for "That Sardi's Smile"
Mica Darley for "Spitting Images"
Lucy Dennison for "It Wasn't Stockhausen's"
Chris Fink for "High Hope for Fatalists Everywhere"
Andrew Forbes for "What You Need"
Lynda Grahill for "There Are Rocks in the Mapocho"
Shoshana Razel Gordon Guedalia for "Sruli's Bris"
David Haynes for "Blind Alley"
Mark Holden for "Portrait of a Bear Guide as a Frenchman, and Neil Borofski as a Chef"
Joshua Hren for "Everything Must Go"
Reese Kwon for "Let Us Offer Each Other a Sign of Peace"
Dave Levitan for "Scenes from a Warm, Soon Planet"
Adnan Mahmutovic for "Vacation"
Anonymous by Choice for "Zero"
Michael Pearce for "Snap Shots"
Tricia Springstubb for "Body and Soul 1970"
Kate Sullivan for "We Are Not Our Own"
Scott Tucker for "Jarrid's Calling"

Congratulations, and thank you for letting us read your stories!

Susan Luid