

Glimmer Train's January 2012
Very Short Fiction Award

1st-place: Brad Beauregard for "What's Kept"

2nd-place: Kim Brooks for "Year's Time"

3rd-place: Weike Wang for "A Flock of Geese Heading East"

Top 25, listed in alphabetical order:

Presca Ahn for "Riverside Drive"

Brandon Ayre for "Pajamas"

Jennifer Blackman for "I Wanted You to Sound Different"

Amber Burke for "Jesus Christs Forever"

Joseph Calabrese for "Garden Variety"

Neil Fischer for "Wiles"

Jonathan Hasak for "The Uniform"

William Locke Hauser for "Dinner in the Gulch"

Joshua Howes for "Was"

Shane Kowalski for "The Spontaneous Combustion of Uncle Vince"

Susannah Long for "The Bear Sanctuary"

Carmen Machado for "Down"

Michael Nardone for "Two Kitchens"

Zoey Peterson for "How Long and What a Marvel"

Ana Reyes for "Spin"

Niloo Sarabi for "Things We Don't Talk About"

Cristina Sciarra for "A Vicarious Life"

Tandy Tillinghast for "Hotline"

Sarah Tutt for "Present Tense"

Sarah Van Arsdale for "In Llano Park"

Leah Van Vaerenewyck for "Split"

Paul Vidich for "Lost in New York"

Congratulations, and thank you for letting us read your stories!

Susan Luid