

egg cups

Petite surprises are twice as nice when served up in these little luxe lovelies

THE NEW BOUQUET

The de rigueur accessory seen on the bistro tables of the Champs-Élysées isn't the latest Chanel bag—it's a tiny bouquet. These nosegays let you display little points of color without taking up more than 2 inches of table space. And you can skip the search for bud vases when you use egg cups. Just fill the cups with water and pop in sprigs of hot pink kalanchoe.
