

Little Freddie King: At Home in the New Orleans Musicians' Village

In 2009 I visited the Crescent City to attend the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival. While there, Little Freddie King invited me to stay with him; I spent my nights sleeping on his comfortable couch at his apartment in the New Orleans Musicians' Village.

In the mornings we rode bikes around his neighborhood, at lunch we dined on soul food cooked by his fiancé, Babyface and afterwards we sat around and played guitar. One morning, as we picked up the guitars where they laid from the night before, I set up my recording gear and captured one of Little Freddie's informal music sessions- this album being the result of that.
