

Nursing Time Tea

A TEA TO AID LACTATION

The Natural Choice for Nursing Women

A Natural, Organic Tea to Enhance Breast Milk

Nursing Time Tea is an all-natural herbal tonic designed to help nursing mothers increase their milk flow and soothe digestive unease of both mother and baby. Nursing can be problematic for many women, particularly in the beginning, and the herbal ingredients in Nursing Time Tea have been used for centuries to promote healthy lactation and bring quick relief to both mothers and colicky or 'gassy' newborns.

Nursing Time Tea brings together a select array of safe and proven ingredients to aid nursing in three key ways: enhancing the quantity and quality of available milk, alleviating digestive complaints, including gas, indigestion and colic, and providing a rich spectrum of nutritive vitamins and minerals central to robust and healthy nursing.

Why Nursing Time Tea?

- ✔ Contains only organic and wild crafted-herbal ingredients
- ✔ Fennel seed – Helps increase milk production and alleviates digestive complaints for both mom and baby
- ✔ Goat's rue - Stimulates the production and flow of breast milk
- ✔ Blessed thistle – Helps increase milk production and contains an effective bitter to aid digestion
- ✔ Alfalfa – Contains key vitamins and minerals, including Vitamin K, to help enrich breast milk
- ✔ Anise seed – Helps increase milk production while alleviating gas, colic and indigestion
- ✔ Lemon verbena – Adds lemon essence for delicious flavoring

Hear what others are saying about Nursing Time Tea:

"I wanted a tea that I knew I could drink and not be potentially harming my newborn daughter. My daughter never had a colicky night, even after I ingested potentially gassy foods. This stuff works! And it tastes great too. MUCH better than breastmilk support tinctures!"
- Jennifer

"I drank this tea 2-3 times daily for months and have had a freezer full of milk stocked up! I stopped unintentionally for about 3 weeks and my supply has depleted tremendously. I am starting to drink it again starting today because I know it will save my supply and increase it right away!" - Michelle
