

Who takes the hill?

page 24

The world's largest global newspaper

metro

'I do' take two for 'Bachelor' babe

page 18

PHILADELPHIA • WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 2009

Wednesday, July 1, 2009

metro

HGTV's 'House Hunters' in Philadelphia We know you want to be on TV — everyone does, right? And if you're in the market for a new house in Philly, you're eligible to appear on HGTV's hit series, "House Hunters." Find out more at HGTV.com/HouseHunters. METRO

lifestyle 19

Home

Don't poison the baby!
The chemicals in the cleaning products under your sink can be menacing, especially when you realize that any chemical on your baby's toys will inevitably end up in his mouth. Dapple cleaning products were created with the help of pediatricians for baby-specific messes. The ingredients are natural, biodegradable, and free of synthetic fragrances. We like the Dapple Toy Cleaner Wipes; use them for your little one's uh-ohs (www.dapplebaby.com). METRO

Things I love ...

Dror Benshetrit, New York designer

You might not know Israeli-born, New York-based designer Dror Benshetrit, but you will soon, thanks to Target. The retail giant, which has been making indie fashion designers such as Erin Fetherston household names, is doing the same with the Interiors world. They recruited Benshetrit to create a limited-edition collection of home goods that includes bedding and furniture ideal for city folk like us — you know, on a budget with limited space. "I'm thrilled to influence American homes with what I call 'well-being' through the use of movement and transformation," says Benshetrit, whose line includes a nesting bookcase that can be reconfigured to serve as a side table or seating. We poked around to find out what the design star has stashed in his West Village home. TINA CHADHA/METRO

Benshetrit

1. "I never owned any small picture frames until this one. The simple and playful geometry holds a typical photo size, and allows you to play with any 6 pictures, whether they are vertical or horizontal." Dror for Target picture frame $10, www.target.com

4. "These flip-flops have such a simple construction, and they look and feel great." Havaianas men's Brazil flip-flops, $22 www.havaianasus.com

3. "This is a great quality fountain pen for less than $4." Pilot Varsity Fountain Pen $3.25 each www.pilotpen-store.com

5. "Moleskine's large notebook is the perfect size. It has a beautiful cover, pleasant pages, and a useful back pocket." Moleskine Large Square d Notebook $16, www.moleskineus.com

Read more on page 20 »

2. "The Canon G9 is by far the best camera I have ever owned. It is extremely intuitive and covers all of my needs, whether it's for professional use or for fun." Canon G9, $500+ www.usa.canon.com

metro philadelphia mortgage guide Bankrate.com
click into details at <http://www.metro.com>