OSN™ INNOVATIVE DIGITAL CAMERA POD AT PMA 2006

OSN™, a leading manufacturer and supplier of high-quality photographic and digital camera accessories and tripods, arrives at PMA with an exciting new line of products for the digital market, including its revolutionary new patent-pending Digital Camera Pod, a bottle top and window-mount panhead.

The Digital Camera Pod can be easily attached to bottles with a 28.5 to 30.5 mm diameter - turning the bottle into an instant, multi-purpose camera support system. The camera pod is ideal for self-portraits, night shots and impromptu photos. Its compact design allows for easy connection to most manufacturers' 20 oz. bottles. It is recommended for use with bottles containing liquid to counterbalance the weight of the camera. The multi-function Digital Camera Pod can also be attached to a car window or other flat surfaces such as books or binders.

"This new product quickly and easily turns virtually any stable surface, from a bottle top to a schoolbook, into a camera support system," said OSN's founder David Breyemeier. "It is compact, lightweight and easily fits into your pocket, purse, or book bag."

Ease of use, durability, and stylish design makes this the perfect item for everyone from novices and students to the picture taking enthusiast. The OSN Digital Camera Pod is just one of an innovative line of professional and digital tripods offered by OSN™.
