Trees for a Change

A tree has been planted for you!

Your tree was planted in a United States National Forest to replace a tree destroyed by wildfire.

Forest Service experts planted your tree in the forest most desperate for restoration, and your tree was a species native to the area.

Your tree will restore habitat and food for wildlife, provide clean air, prevent soil erosion and add beauty to our National Forests for generations to come.

This gift has been recorded on the Trees for a Change online registry.
