HOW TO MAKE A BEADED RING

Create a matching ring to wear with your wide loop bracelet!

Weave two rows of loops to make this ring, using the same faceted beads that you chose for the bracelet.

1. Measure and cut about 30” (77 cm) of nylon thread.

2. Follow steps 2-6 of the WIDE LOOP BRACELET and create one row of eight loops.

3. Follow steps 7-8 of the WIDE LOOP BRACELET and create a second row for the ring. Repeat step 8 of the bracelet to add all the rest of the loops for this row of the ring.

4. Circle the rows of beads around.

5. Add two beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 on the other end of the ring.

6. Add two beads. Bring the thread through beads 1 and 2 on the other side.

7. Add two final beads. Bring the thread through beads 1 and 2 on the other side. Tie a secure double knot and cut off the excess thread.

HOW TO MAKE A FLOWER BRACELET

Weave crystal beads into a chain of colorful flowers!

This color guide is just a suggestion for one flower color combination. You can alternate other color beads with the purple, making each flower a different color.

1. Measure and cut 80” (204 cm) of nylon thread.

2. Add one green bead and one purple bead onto the thread.

3. Bring the left end of the thread through purple bead 1.

4. Bring the right end of the thread through the other purple bead.

5. Add one green bead and one purple bead on the left thread. Bring the thread through purple bead 1, new green bead 2 and new purple bead 3.

6. Add one green bead and one purple bead on the right thread. Bring the thread through purple bead 1, new green bead 2 and new purple bead 3.

7. Add one purple bead and one green bead on the left thread. Bring the thread through purple bead 1 and new purple bead 2.

8. Add one purple bead and one green bead on the right thread. Bring the thread through purple bead 1 and new purple bead 2.

9. Add one green bead on the left thread. Bring the thread through purple bead 1, new green bead 2 and new purple bead 3.

10. Repeat steps 1-3 and 5-10 for each flower of the bracelet. Make the row of beads on each flower a different color.

11. After the last flower, tie both ends of thread to one half of a clasp. Cut off the excess thread. On the other side of the bracelet, bring a piece of excess thread through the last green bead and tie it to the other half of the clasp.

12. Add two final beads. Bring the thread through beads 1 and 2 on the other side. Tie a secure double knot and cut off the excess thread.

13. Repeat steps 5-10 to complete this new flower.

Read instructions completely before starting your project.

Preparation: You should organize your supplies away from carpeting and upholstery on a suitable working area such as a kitchen table with a sink nearby. Always cover your work area with scrap paper to protect it. Paint may stain carpeting or clothing. Wash out immediately if this occurs. Wear a smock when working. Keep paper towels and a cup of water handy for cleaning.

3. Use stencils only on a dry surface.

HOW TO MAKE A FOUR-STRAND CHOKER OR BRACELET

Use nylon thread to create four single strands of beads for this choker or bracelet. The beaded strands are twisted together and attached at both ends with a breakaway clasp.

1. Using the ruler on page 1, measure 55" (140 cm) of nylon thread. Adult supervision is recommended when cutting the thread. Tie a knot at one end of the thread and attach it to the barrel end of the clasp. Refer to FOUR STRAND CHOKER, for instructions on how to attach the clasp.
2. Slide six faceted crystal beads onto the thread.
3. Circle the thread around and tie a secure double knot to create a ring of beads.
4. Add five more beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the ring, and through new beads 2 and 3.
5. When you get to the last loop of the row, bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop only.
6. To begin the next row, add four beads. Bring the thread through beads 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the last row.
7. Add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, and beads 2, 3, 4 and 5.
8. Repeat step 3 and continue add more loops to this row of the bracelet. Stop just before the next to last loop of the row. Proceed to steps 10 and 11 to complete the row.
9. Add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, and beads 2, 3, 4 and 5.
10. When you get to the next to last loop of the row, add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, beads 2 and 3 of the last loop, and new bead 4.
11. Add three beads for the last loop of the row. Bring the thread through beads 1 and 2 of the first row, and bead 3 of the last loop.
12. Flip the weaving over (from left to right) so that the thread is coming out of the bottom of the right side. See above. Repeat steps 7-11 and add a third row to the bracelet.
13. After the last loop of the third row, tie a secure double knot and cut off the excess thread. Bring a small piece of excess thread through the middle bead of one end of the bracelet. Tie both ends of the thread to one half of the clasp. Bring another piece of thread through the middle bead on the other end of the bracelet and tie both ends to the other half of the clasp.

HOW TO MAKE A LOOP BRACELET

1. Remove your music box, paints and brush from the box.
2. Carefully cut apart paint pots using a scissors (not included) with adult supervision.
3. Add two clear beads. Bring the thread through clear beads 1 and 2 of the last loop, and new clear beads 3 and 4.
4. Add two clear beads, two red beads and two red beads. Bring the thread through red beads 1 and 2 of the last loop, and new red beads 3 and 4.
5. Add two clear beads, two red beads and two clear beads. Bring the thread through clear beads 1 and 2 of the first three clear beads.
6. Continue to alternate steps 4 and 5, adding more loops of red and clear beads. Create enough loops to fit easily around your wrist (about 20 loops). After the last loop, bring the thread through bead 1 as shown above, then tie the end of the thread to the cap of the clasp.

HOW TO MAKE A LOOP BRACELET

1. Using the ruler on page 1, measure 55" (140 cm) of nylon thread. Adult supervision is recommended when cutting the thread. Tie a knot at one end of the thread and attach it to the barrel end of the clasp. Refer to FOUR STRAND CHOKER, for instructions on how to attach the clasp.
2. String an equal number of beads on each strand of the choker or bracelet. You can make each strand a different color or create a pattern on each strand by alternating two or more colors of beads. After you complete beading each strand, tie a double knot at each end so that the beads do not fall off.
3. Without letting the strands untwist, tie all the ends together with a double knot.
4. Then, thread two ends of the nylon thread through the hole at the other end of the clasp and double knot the threads to the clasp. Cut off the excess thread. To close your choker or bracelet, snap the two halves of the clasp together.
5. If you thread runs short during the weaving, tie another piece of thread onto the short end. Continue weaving the beads as before—the new beads will slide over and hide the knot.
6. To begin the next row, add four beads. Bring the thread through beads 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the last row.
7. Add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, and beads 2, 3, 4 and 5.
8. Repeat step 3 and continue to add more loops to this row of the bracelet. Stop just before the next to last loop of the row. Proceed to steps 10 and 11 to complete the row.
9. Add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, and beads 2, 3, 4 and 5.
10. When you get to the next to last loop of the row, add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, beads 2 and 3 of the last loop, and new bead 4.
11. Add three beads for the last loop of the row. Bring the thread through beads 1 and 2 of the first row, and bead 3 of the last loop.
12. Flip the weaving over (from left to right) so that the thread is coming out of the bottom of the right side. See above. Repeat steps 7-11 and add a third row to the bracelet.
13. After the last loop of the third row, tie a secure double knot and cut off the excess thread. Bring a small piece of excess thread through the middle bead of one end of the bracelet. Tie both ends of the thread to one half of the clasp. Bring another piece of thread through the middle bead on the other end of the bracelet and tie both ends to the other half of the clasp.

This bracelet is made with loops of faceted crystal beads. Create your own colorful design using various colors of crystal faceted beads.

1. Using the ruler on page 1, measure 55" (140 cm) of nylon thread. Additional thread will have to be added on as you complete the bracelet.
2. Slide three clear beads, two red beads and three clear beads onto the thread.
3. Bring the end of the thread back through the first three clear beads.
4. Add two red beads, two clear beads and two red beads. Bring the thread through red beads 1 and 2 of the last loop, and new red beads 3 and 4.
5. Add two clear beads, two red beads and two clear beads. Bring the thread through clear beads 1 and 2 of the last loop, and new clear beads 3 and 4.
6. Continue to alternate steps 4 and 5, adding more loops of red and clear beads. Create enough loops to fit easily around your wrist (about 20 loops). After the last loop, bring the thread through bead 1 as shown above, then tie the end of the thread to the cap of the clasp.

HOW TO MAKE A WIDE LOOP BRACELET

Weave a wider crystal bead bracelet with three rows of loops. The clasp is added on after the weaving is complete.

1. Start with about 60" (153 cm) of nylon thread. Additional thread will have to be added on as you complete the bracelet.
2. Slide six faceted crystal beads onto the thread.
3. Circle the thread around and tie a secure double knot to create a ring of beads.
4. Add five more beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the ring, and through new beads 2 and 3.
5. When you get to the last loop of the row, bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop only.
6. To begin the next row, add four beads. Bring the thread through beads 1, 2, 3 and 4 of the last row.
7. Add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, and beads 2, 3, 4 and 5.
8. Repeat step 3 and continue to add more loops to this row of the bracelet. Stop just before the next to last loop of the row. Proceed to steps 10 and 11 to complete the row.
9. Add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, and beads 2, 3, 4 and 5.
10. When you get to the next to last loop of the row, add three beads. Bring the thread through bead 1 of the last loop, beads 2 and 3 of the last loop, and new bead 4.
11. Add three beads for the last loop of the row. Bring the thread through beads 1 and 2 of the first row, and bead 3 of the last loop.
12. Flip the weaving over (from left to right) so that the thread is coming out of the bottom of the right side. See above. Repeat steps 7-11 and add a third row to the bracelet.
13. After the last loop of the third row, tie a secure double knot and cut off the excess thread. Bring a small piece of excess thread through the middle bead of one end of the bracelet. Tie both ends of the thread to one half of the clasp. Bring another piece of thread through the middle bead on the other end of the bracelet and tie both ends to the other half of the clasp.
