

HOME | AUTOS | REAL ESTATE | JOBS | CLASSIFIEDS | SHOP | TICKETS | CONTESTS | GAMESNEWS | SPORTS | GOSSIP | ENTERTAINMENT | NY LOCAL | OPINIONS | VIDEO | BLOGS | LIFESTYLE | MONEY | LATINOFOOD / DINING | HEALTH | TRAVEL | LIFESTYLE COLUMNISTS | LIFESTYLE PHOTOS

Online foodies gift guide

BY ROSEMARY BLACK
DAILY NEWS ONLINE

Wednesday, November 28th 2007, 11:19 PM

No time to whip up cookies, chutneys and cheese straws for the foodie on your gift list? Order online and you can treat your favorite gastronome to homemade holiday goodies with practically no effort. Here, for every type of food lover, is a sampling of delicious specialties.

For the tea drinker

Paromi produces tea with a pedigree: it's made with organic herbs, flowers, spices and small pieces of fruit, packed into biodegradable cornstarch-derived sachets and displayed in recyclable amber glass jars. The assortment of lively flavors includes coconut almond, pineapple papaya, cinnamon Chai, lemon ginger and mint (a personal favorite). A package of 15 sachets costs $12.50 and can be ordered from www.paromi.com.