

What People Are Saying About Glenis Redmond

“Enthusiastic, determined personality, encouraging. Absolutely delightful. She modeled, then scaffolded the process for us so we could all be successful.” ~ Kennedy Center workshop participant

“I felt my father embrace you, as I embraced you. I can't think of a greater honor for my father than to have you be a voice for him.”
~Helga Sandburg Crile (daughter of Carl Sandburg)

“Yeah, I know the promotional material describes her as a passionate soul. One would expect that. However, the fact of the matter is, Glenis is just that; and it comes out not only in poetry performances, but also in her working with others seeking to find their literary voice.” ~ Foothill Writer’s Guild Writer’s Workshop participant

“Wonderful. I was blown away. Never heard anyone so creative and inspiring.” ~Audience member, Warren Wilson College, Asheville, NC

“Redmond doesn’t read her poem so much as she declares it in full-body motion.” ~ Orlando Sentinel

“The best CETA workshop to date.” ~ Kennedy Center workshop participant

“Her main strength was her ability to draw all the students into what she was doing and to keep them involved...I saw some students blossom in a way they never had before.” ~ teacher, Anderson School District #5, Anderson, SC

“Confidence in herself and the ability to teach us self-confidence. I loved hearing Glenis perform and then learning how to perform myself.” ~ Kennedy Center workshop participant
