Watercoloring silk fabric " Ebru " is an ancient art existing since the Ottoman Empire. Organic paint drops are slowly layered on a special liquid using special brushes and the artist shapes the drops by hand, floating over the liquid. Today " Ebru Art " is still alive thanks to the devoted masters who are passing their knowledge to a new generation of artists respecting the wisdom of past and evolving this unique technique in order to keep it alive in the future.

This exclusive handpainted selection of " Ebru Scarves " are designed in fashion colors. Designs and colors might slightly vary as each artist has a distinct style and every piece is a distinctive art objet.
